Kitzbühel 365 – that’s the name of the new initiative from Kitzbühel Tourism. What’s behind it? Simply the fact that Kitzbühel is attractive for guests 365 days a year, and is worth a visit at any time throughout the year. At the Rasmushof we have already known this and have been committed to it for 10 years. In 2006, we opened our Hermann Reisch Hall, and this year, it’s celebrating its first milestone birthday. Since then, the Rasmushof has been open for you 365 days a year.

Because the classic tourism seasons have become a thing of the past for us. Have you ever stayed with us in April? It’s a month known for its unpredictable weather, but the great thing is that we enjoy the whole scope of the season. Early in the mornings, we put on our skis and set off across the slopes, then later make a stop at our terrace, and allow ourselves to be kissed by the spring sunshine. In the afternoons, we swap our ski poles for golf clubs and get in the mood for a season on the green.

Is there actually an unsuitable season for wonderful holidays? No, there isn’t. Just open your senses to new experiences, be curious about the unfamiliar, enjoy consciously – that’s possible throughout the year. And the best place for it is here with us.

See you soon,

Signe Reisch

Hiking highs

HIGHLIGHT

More than 1,000 km of perfectly maintained trails, and highlights such as the Sunrise Hike make (not only) every hiker happy.

Hiking is completely in keeping with the spirit of the times. That's no surprise: The faster our world seems to turn, the more we look for that which is steady and lasting. On hikes, we can escape everyday life. With every step up the mountain, we distance ourselves further from our problems and worries, and leave everything behind us down in the valley. We can switch off, relax and find new strength when the wind blows down from the mountain.

Kitzbühel's grass mountains seem as though they were created to be conquered with hiking boots and trekking poles. More than 1,000 km of hiking trails open up to reveal thrilling views of our mountains. Set off on tours from the Rasmushof on your own or join the guided hikes offered by Kitzbühel Tourism and Bergbahn Kitzbühel, which are free of charge. Particularly intense experiences await you with a private hiking guide, who will tailor everything to your individual needs. Simply book at reception!

A highlight for those who love hiking is the Karstweg on the Kitzbüheler Horn. Here, you'll discover cave-like structures that were formed more than 450 million years ago, in the form of impressive karst holes.

The Alpine Flower Garden awaits you with 400 different botanical wonders: both local and from other European mountain regions and the Himalayas. In July and August, there is a guided tour every day at 11 am, free of charge.

From the Kitzbüheler Horn, a beautiful hiking route takes you over to the Bichlalm, one of the loveliest hiking areas in our region. This route is also suitable for anyone who is not yet very familiar with the Alpine terrain and who is gaining their first hiking experience. The Bichlalm has been accessible again since 2015 with a double chairlift, on which you can travel back down to the valley in comfort. Of course, this applies in reverse too: You can travel up on the Bichlalm lift and first treat yourself to some refreshment in the Kneipp pool, before you set off on a beautiful hike to the Kitzbüheler Südberge or up to the Kitzbüheler Horn.

A magical moment: Old melodies are performed by musicians to greet the rising sun.

The whole family up on the mountain

Little hikers can get in some training on the Kitz Climbing Path or in the climbing park, while bigger hikers won't be able to resist the via ferratas. And how about trying a bit of geocaching? That's the name of the new trend sport, which is best described as a treasure hunt. The "cache" is both the hidden place and the treasure, which is marked with GPS coordinates and can be found using a GPS device. An exciting experience for the whole family!

Sunrise on the Horn

An unforgettable, almost mythical experience: sunrise on the mountain. Every Sunday (10 July to 4 September), the cable car takes you up to the Kitzbüheler Horn from 5.45 am. Experience how the sun emerges from behind the mountains and bathes the peaks in its light. Old melodies are performed by musicians to welcome the day and, of course, there's also breakfast. It truly is simply unique! No less spectacular are the full moon hikes, which you're welcome to book here at our reception or directly at Kitzbühel Tourism.

Hiking Europiade 2016

At the Hiking Europiade from 26 to 28 May 2016, hiking enthusiasts from all over the world meet in Kitzbühel to compete in their favourite hobby. Great hiking routes promise action-packed days. You can find further information on the Hiking Europiade at www.kitzbuehel.com, and our reception team will be happy to help you.

SUSTAINABLE

WHAT'S NEW?

12 new e-bikes and a charging station

Cycling through Kitzbühel's breathtaking landscape is a lot of fun. If the bike also has an electric motor, you can extend some of your tours and you'll even find that you can suddenly master mountain stages.

That's why we've purchased 12 new e-bikes for you – trekking bikes, city bikes and also children's models. This means that you can explore the region either by the hour or by the day at a brisk pace, enabling you to even tackle some ascents. A great idea is to take the e-bike up in the cable car to the Hahnenkamm and then set off along the high-altitude trails. Astoundingly beautiful.

As of now, you can also be electrically mobile at the Rasmushof – not only by e-bike, but also with your electric car, since we've set up a charging station. This was a logical step for us to take, as we are fully committed to sustainability in all areas.

For example, our kitchen team places great emphasis on regional products. Whenever possible, we employ local craftsmen and companies, focus on quality and foster enduring values.

We always strive for sustainability in everything we do. The philosophy behind electric mobility is also part of that.

We look forward to seeing you pulling up soon at the Rasmushof in your electric car...

Live from the Hahnenkamm Race

This year, the Rasmushof was at the centre of the action again during the Hahnenkamm Race. Exciting news: For the first time, ServusTV broadcast the programme "Sport und Talk aus dem Hangar 7" live from the Hahnenkamm Race this year – from the Rasmushof lounge!

1) It was obvious that the TV stars, such as Kjetil Jansrud, Hannes Reichelt and Klaus Kröll, felt very comfortable here with us.
2) We're on air! In the picture: producer Fritz Melchert, presenter Christian Brugger from ServusTV and Signe Reisch.

3) It's not only at the Hahnenkamm Race that they work closely together, but also during lots of other projects in Kitzbühel: the ARGE partners Dr. Josef Burger – managing director of Bergbahn Kitzbühel, Dr. Klaus Winkler – mayor of Kitzbühel, Signe Reisch – president of Kitzbühel Tourismus and Dr. Michael Huber – president of the Kitzbüheler Ski Club.

The perfect golf week

HIGHLIGHT

Chefs with Gault Millau awards and wine-growers proved their worth in 2015 – the Golf Festival 2016 will be a culinary celebration again.

How can the Kitzbühel Golf Festival be made even more attractive? We ask ourselves this question every year, because we all know that you can only be really good if you make constant improvements.

So in 2015, we invited 6 chefs with Gault Millau awards and 6 wine-growers for the first time to indulge us during the 6 festival days with their culinary skills and fine wines. The festival guests were highly impressed. The chefs and wine-growers produced such spectacular delights that we'll be focusing on cuisine of the highest standard again this year. This means that from 19 to 26 June, you'll experience the perfect mix of sport, fun, games and enjoyment again at the 14th Kitzbühel Golf Festival.

At the halfway stations and the festival evenings

Last year, some of the best chefs in Austria cooked up a treat for us at the Golf Festival. Not only in the evenings, but also during the day at the halfway stations. That was a truly exquisite indulgence! Who'll be with us this year? We're not going to reveal that here yet. But rest assured that the crème de la crème will be stirring things up for you again and famous Austrian wine-growers will be pouring you glasses of the finest wines.

Exciting tournaments

The tournaments are also a real treat for golfers from all over the world. There are nine tournaments this year, which will be held on the six festival days. Things will be mixed up a bit, with not only the classic competitions but also special tournaments, such as the gourmet tournament at the Rasmushof, which has now found a loyal fan base of foodies. In a golfing sense and, in particular, a culinary one, you'll complete an 18-hole course. At every second tee, wonderful delicacies await the participants. From champagne to open sandwiches, fresh fruit, hot dishes and divine desserts, and much more. And the culinary pleasure continues after the tournament. The focus during this tournament is on fun and enjoyment.

Drama and excitement await the participants of the Streif Attack.

The idea is to conquer the Streif ski run with your golf club, perhaps even in a flight with one of the many stars. Whoever conquers the Streif is the champion...

But golf is far from being the only thing to enjoy. For those who fancy a break now and then or for non-golfers, there are attractive alternatives – guided hikes to the most beautiful locations. On Thursday, the destinations are the Bichlalm and the Lämmerbühelalm with stunning views of Kitzbühel's mountains. On Saturday, a visit to the famous Streif downhill run is on the agenda: View the start house, the race track and the finish house – exciting and fascinating. A charming diversion: the guided e-bike tour through Bichlach with its picturesque hills and beautiful old farms...

ANNIVERSARY HALL

LET'S CELEBRATE

10 years – unforgettably beautiful memories

The Rasmushof has always been a place where people gather to celebrate and spend wonderful hours together. This is what inspired the idea of building the Hermann Reisch Hall. Its opening ceremony was 10 years ago. Since then, the hall has developed in just the way we hoped. Every year here, 10 to 20 wedding couples celebrate the start of their life together. Glasses are raised for milestone birthdays, anniversaries are celebrated, and there are company parties. At Easter and Christmas, our young guests take part in crafts activities, dance and party in the Hermann Reisch Hall and, of course, our hall also provides a very special ambience for many Christmas parties.

The Hermann Reisch Hall has also become an important venue for clubs and associations in the region. They hold their meetings here and – more importantly – their celebrations. Countless balls have already been held here as well: the Farmers' Ball, the Police Ball, the Schützen Ball and many more. Folk dance evenings have also taken place in our hall, as well as concerts, such as the spring concert of Aurach Band, New Year's concerts and many others. We've hosted book presentations, panel discussions, film screenings, award ceremonies, general assemblies and, of course, our annual Alm-SommerParty.

Exuberant parties and celebrations take place time and again in the Hermann Reisch Hall. In the comfortable atmosphere, our guests really feel at home.

Seating, table decoration, lighting ... we'll be happy to stage your event, too.

The Hermann Reisch Hall also plays an important role during the Hahnenkamm Race: On the Friday and Sunday, the ski racers prepare here between the heats. Marcel Hirscher, Felix Neureuther and others feel just as comfortable here as the ball guests or the seminar participants do. Why is that? It's thanks to the room's homely atmosphere with plenty of wood and an open fireplace.

We also demonstrate our expertise at meetings and seminars. Why else would so many of these events be booked here with us?

Whether your event is for work or pleasure: Nadine and Steffi ensure that it will be a success in the Hermann Reisch Hall. They support the organisers with valuable advice and suggestions, and ensure that everything runs perfectly on site. So that every guest or participant is happy and satisfied.

In recent years, we have invested in the latest technology and have purchased seating for the optimum arrangements. This makes us really flexible, whether it's for a party or a meeting, a small or large group.

We're excited to see what else lies ahead for us in the coming years, and which events we'll host. And we look forward to every single one.

A housekeeper with charm

IN CONVERSATION

Vera Horn keeps everything in order – so that our guests are happy and comfortable.

Vera, the new housekeeper, has not yet held her position at the Rasmushof for long – since November last year. But Vera has had close ties with the Rasmushof for longer, since she's the sweetheart of Andreas, the son of the house. Everyone is very glad that she is now supporting the family business with her skills. The 38-year-old has a great talent for organisation and exactness. And two sons, Tobias and Timon, aged 17 and 13, who sometimes cheekily call the manager Signe "Granny Signe".

Vera's responsibility as a housekeeper is to keep everything in order – particularly upstairs, in the gym and the swimming pool. She also assigns the chambermaids their tasks. However, first and foremost she and her team ensure that guests at the Rasmushof find everything they need to feel relaxed and comfortable here. Are there enough clothes hangers in the wardrobe, and fresh flowers, shower gel and soap in the room? Here, the odd pillow is fluffed up; there, the curtains are pulled into place: Everything has to be perfect. Team work is frequently required, and the chambermaids Fatma, Emine, Monika, Andrea, Zlata, Slavka and Gülseren as well as Sibel in the laundry service can rely on Vera.

Vera really loves her work. What she always enjoys, in particular, is a chat with regular guests. She's already grown very fond of many of them. "Almost all the guests are cheerful and very kind. It's fun to work in such a relaxed environment", she explains. She lives by the motto of "What goes around comes around" and delights in every mutual kindness.

When guests are just departing, Vera checks their room and makes sure that they haven't forgotten anything. So what's at the top of the list of forgotten items? "Definitely the mobile phone charger and the charging unit for the toothbrush," she laughs. On request, these items and anything else guests leave behind can be sent on to them.

Vera also ensures that our guests have their privacy. Even if they don't leave their room for days on end, such as a man travelling alone recently. In this case, however, Vera insists on making contact by telephone, to make sure that her guests are doing well. It doesn't often happen that individual guests stay in their room. But it frequently happens with couples. "Somehow, it makes you happy for them too, when you see that they've enjoyed their stay with us to the full, even if they haven't seen much of Kitzbühel," Vera smiles.

There are touching moments time and again. And disconcerting ones, such as when Vera found a little girl on one of the floors early in the morning – in her pyjamas, barefoot and quite desperate. She wanted to go to her parents' room, but didn't know the room number. Fortunately, it soon became apparent where the child belonged. In the meantime, the manager Signe invited the little blond angel to have breakfast with her in the lounge. Incidentally, the little one wasn't missed: The nanny, who was responsible for supervising the little girl, was still fast asleep. In the future, we're sure that she'll lock the room door...

Wherever you come into contact with people, variety is guaranteed, and Vera really values that. Our guests also feel that she's there for them, and that she's committed to her work and puts her heart into it...

Housekeeper Vera with her "girlies" from upstairs and from the laundry service. A strong team, always focused on our guests' well-being.

Rasmushof Alm Sommer Party

FRIDAY, 5 AUGUST 2016

What would summer be without the AlmSommerParty at the Rasmushof? For many guests and locals: unimaginable. The AlmSommerParty is THE party hit of the season. There are many good reasons for this, four of which are of a musical nature. This year, they're Saubartln, La Goassn, Melissa and Oesch's die Dritten.

Lads and lasses will be putting on their best finery – dirndls and lederhosen – for the AlmSommerParty, and celebrating the night of nights on the Rasmushof terrace, in the lounges, in the Hermann Reisch Hall, and at the champagne bars. It all kicks off at 6 pm with a sundowner on the terrace. And it's not over until the break of dawn. Until then, it's about dancing, laughing and flirting for all you're worth. Who'll be crowned Herzerkönigin and Schützenkönig? Let's wait and see...
